

WEEKLY IMAGE

Dear Grian Bertler,

Last year, I worked in the kitchen, so I wore whatever I wanted to because nobody ever saw me. This year, however, I am in the public eye and feel as though I should be more conscious of my wardrobe choices. I would consider myself to be of a curvy figure; more of a pear than an apple...possibly a passion fruit...or a guava. Do you have any fashion tips?

Thank you,
Raela K.

Dear Raela,

Fashion isn't really my thing, but I'll give it my best shot. I recommend you wear a fancy polo shirt. Maybe some pants and a nice cumber bun. Also, you can never go wrong with accessories!!! ;) I suggest a pair of non-prescription glasses that those cool kids wear. Throw a little bit of flair in the mix as well. Hopefully your curves won't ruin this next tip, but a pair of chaps can really make an outfit.

When it comes to cosmetology, I'm your man! Make sure you put on as much blush on ya cheeks as possible. It makes you look really goofy and guys dig that. Now remember; a little goes a long way. So, also apply a lot of lipstick and eye shadow. If you don't look like a clown, you're doing it wrong.

Finally, on a more serious note, what you look like is great and all, but it's on the inside that counts. So make sure you eat a lot of Activia and broccoli.

Yo welcome gurl!
Grian Bertler

HIS CREATION'S CREATIONS:

Without Lies
By Stephen Oney

Man of the world
With flesh over bone
Has the world's wisdom
With a heart that is his own

Led by fellow men
Masters of making time pass
He took questionable knowledge
And taught his own class

His actions a drifters
A mind more than awry
He has shown a friend
Who spoke without lies

Ask me at will
You need to only start
To begin to know a love
That resides in every heart

Speaker of truth
Bastion of light
Tell me please
How to do what is right

Be a witness to my love
Do as I'll have you do
Live in service to others
Instead of just pleasing you

Oh friend of great love
I just beg you to tell
How can an ailing man find peace
A haven in his Hell

Listen to my words
Practice what I say
Let go of life's reins
And give to me your every day

I will steer through the choppy rivers
I will blanket you from unending rain
Trust that my affection is eternal
And is mightier than any pain.

Oh truest of all fathers Oh blessed keeper from above
How may I will for only you
And honor your holy love

Let go of all actions
That will take you from I
Live only in heart with spirit
And to this world die

Share to all what I offer
Let all know in your sight
That all men are born into the dark
And I am everlasting light

Follow as I lead
Walk in my path, do not roam
To be rewarded with life eternal
And my holy hearth a home

The man took all he heard
And made those words his life
He loved with an open heart
And worked to help those in strife

From that day he was forever changed with this world he was truly done
The day that he spoke with the Spirit
And started to live as God's son

*If you have a creative work and would like to share it, please tell Meg or Jeremy. It doesn't matter what it is; we can take a picture or make a copy and put it in the weekly newsletter.

Staff Outing

This week we will be taking a trip to the beautiful Observatory Hill a few minutes outside of Montello. Sack Lunches will be provided. Don't forget to bring your hiking boots!
